Fitzgerald Announces Second Splash Competition of Y. M. C. A. With Revised Rules to Permit Closer Scoring—Many Entries Expected for Swimming Races Week of July 27—Three Days to Pull Meet

By "SCOOP"

There seeped across the sport situation yesterday, the important announcement of the second annual Y. M. C. A. Water Sports Meet. Physical Director E. G. Fitzgerald, promoter of last year's successful meet, and inventor of the most logical scoring system now in vogue for such amateur athletics, will again have charge of the competition.

Three days of good hard swimming are provided in the program—each entry to have a chance at the three handsome medals, being compelled to go into every competition. Six items on each bill—three bills—heap work! July 27—Monday—is the date of the first event, and the following Wednesday and Friday will finish it up. By giving the boys a day between each two exertions, Fitz believes he is making up for the rule compelling each entrant to go into all eighteen events.

A revision of the scoring points was made for the coming meet. By observation on last year's results, Fitzgerald discovered that not all the events were properly graded as to difficulty. For instance he saw that a hundred yard swim had fewer finishers than a distance plunge, so he whacked off a few points to even the two events.

The program is as follows:

FIRST PROGRAM

July 27th, 1914

1. FORTY-YARD SWIM—(TWO LENGTHS)
1 point for every 1-5 of a second better than 40 seconds, 20 seconds—100 points.

1 point for every 6 inches over 10 feet, 60 feet—100 points.

WHADDYA MEAN COMPETITION COMMITTEE??

Phoenix Motorcycle Club Listens to Co-operation Speech and Then Debates and Debates

BY EARNEST DOUGLAS

Whether the Phoenix Motorcycle club shall have a permanent competition committee, or one committee to handle the Los Angeles-Phoenix race and another the race from Springfield to Phoenix, is a question that caused all kinds of excitement for two hours and a half last evening in Donofrio's Indian room, where the two-wheeler boys met for their weekly convocation. Though the committee that handled the race to Prescott was made permanent, after the president had been removed from the chair, there is no assurance that this action will not be reversed at the next meeting. So the question really will not be settled till next Tuesday evening, when, it is certain, a majority of the members of the club will be present to express their opinions.

As a matter of fact, the action in regard to the competition committee was not the most important taken by the club last night. The really important thing done was to acquire a club home. Treasurer Clyde Blaine reported that he had found a little house out at the corner of Eighth and Washington streets which the club could rent without bankrupting itself. A motion instructing the house committee to lease the house right away, immediately, was adopted without a dissenting vote. The committee, with the assistance of members who are not afraid of getting their hands soiled, will do a little work around the building during the next few days and a glorious house-warming will be had Tuesday night, July 21. Bob Orput made himself the most popular motorcycleist in Phoenix when he announced that he would donate the watermelons for one large and moist feast on that occasion. Nobody asked.

If the club would accept Mr. Orput's generous offer, but just so that he can feel easy about it the assurance is here given that four wagonloads of melons are expected.

But about that fight over the competition committee. It developed that there was a difference of opinion regarding whether the committee composed of Lyle Abbott, Harry Lane and Ben Rudderow was appointed merely for the Prescott-Phoenix and Los Angeles-Phoenix races, with authority to pull off track meets for the purpose of raising money for those events, or was a permanent committee to handle all competitions held under the auspices of the club. Even Abbott and Lane, the two committee members present, did not agree on that point. President Craig Pottinger said that the only work now before the committee was to arrange the race from Los Angeles. Another committee, composed of J. W. Thompson, Frank Seltner and Joe O'Connell, the president said, would handle the intra-state race from Springfield, and he would handle the motorcycle track race at the fair himself, with the help of two assistants.

But it developed that there was a considerable difference of opinion regarding the advisability of dividing the work among several committees. It was argued that it would be better to centralize the work, so that there would not be several competing committees, each pulling for its particular event.

President Pottinger ruled that a motion to make the Abbott-Lane-Rudderow committee a permanent one—to give it jurisdiction over all the club's competitions—was out of order. He continued so to rule and the discussion continued hot and heavy. But it got the club nowhere. Finally Vice President Fogle took the chair by the practically unanimous request of those present. The motion then was carried. Pottinger and his friends still contended that under the club by-laws the entire proceeding was out of order.

While the smoke of battle was thick, just before Pottinger left the chair, a motion that a committee be appointed to adopt an amendment to the constitution giving the club power to recall the president, was adopted. It was originally made by one of the president's supporters and Pottinger himself expressed himself as being in favor of progressive principles in club government. John Hohl, Joe Gladioux and Ernest Fogle were appointed as a committee to draw the amendment.

C. B. Wood, secretary to the state fair commission, made an earnest and encouraging little talk at the opening of the meeting, promising that the commission would assist the club in every way possible to make all the races successful. He said some things that the motorcyclists certainly liked to hear, and they are going to make good on those races, even if they have to recall every officer and committee in the whole works.

THE REMAINS

A negro died without medical attendance and the coroner went to investigate.
"Did Samuel Williams live here?" he asked the weeping woman who answered the door.
"Yessah," she replied between sobs.
"May I see the remains?" asked the coroner.
"I is de remains," she answered proudly.—Chicago News.

A mermaid sat upon the shore. Her feelings were extremely hurt. She sighed, "My fate I must deplore. How can I wear a shadow skirt."—Washington Star.

SPORT COMMENT

Chap by the name of Rapp, member of Topeka's league leading baseball club, hitting .402, which is best in that circuit. And why not—with that name. Oh, yes, we forgot to say which way Topeka was leading. 'Twas not forward.

D'you ever see such a flock of pennant races? No, you didn't. Look! New York, Chicago, St. Louis right up there in the National; Philadelphia, Washington, Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis, Boston all above the .500 mark almost close enough to be covered with a horse-handkerchief; the Chifeds, the Hoosiers within a few games of each other in the Federal league, with a healthy secondary growth of pennant hopes well above the half way mark—

Doesn't this look like nearness. Take a slant at the Coast league: Los Angeles is leading by a margin of but two games over Venice, and the Ducks and Seals are right there ready to horn in (imagine ducks with horns) in case of a slump. According to our Associated Press "dope," the half-way mark has been passed in major league ball, and the race in each league is an open one. With the Giants slumping, it takes the Yanks to uphold the honor of Gotham. At least six American league clubs have pennant chances, and three in the National.

They're going to take a trip, these Senators of ours. It is rumored that Frank Baum will try to line Hayden up for a couple of games. Thursday is Tempe day here, and on Sunday, the Bears repeat. Ray is being asked for a game a week from Sunday, and then, the Solons travel.

This reminds us of a bit of history. It happened while we were away, or we would have had some fun over it. Hayden and Ray got into an argument over baseball, and the former imported a lot of temporarily idle Phoenicians. Ray did the same about some Globe players and it really grew into a fuss between the county seats of Maricopa and Gila counties. Well, Globe won. Our friend, H. Davis Ross of the Arizona Record was here two days ago, and he twitted us about it. So we dared him to agitate a series between the Miners and the Lawmakers.

It begins to look as though our best cup defending ocean going high sailed yachts were really degenerating into three conditions of mind. The Resolute seems bent on winning all the trials. The Vanitie is just like that—awful prideful, but not much on the achievement thing. And the Defiance butting in just once in a while, and showing a lot of spunk. May the best yacht win!
